General Guidelines

- The maximum number of players allowed in this tournament is 128.
- No outside memory cards, or controllers all tournament equipment will be provided.
- Players will be randomly paired up in groups at the start of the event.
- This tournament for Halo 3 will be a single elimination 4 player FFA (Free For All.)
- The top player, (most kills) in each set will advance to the next round.
- In the event of a tie, the player with the least deaths will advance.
- All games will be played on an Xbox 360.
- Players will be allowed one at a time to adjust their controller settings and customize the appearance of their characters.
- Physical threats, racial comments, or inappropriate language and behavior will not be tolerated. If you are warned and not compliant with such guidelines, you will be asked to leave the tournament. Friendly trash talk is allowed (it's part of the game!) but please be courteous to the other players.
- There is no pausing allowed. If a player intentionally pauses the game, they will be disqualified. Any accidental pausing will be reviewed by the Event Moderators.
- Abuse of any equipment (Xbox 360, controllers, TV's, etc) will result in your disqualification from the tournament and reimbursement of any damaged equipment.
- No sideline coaching is allowed. You may cheer or boo as the game progresses (and you're encouraged to do so), but you may not offer advice to anyone playing a game. You will be warned and failure to follow this rule will result in disqualification from the tournament.
- If you are more than 10 minutes late to the tournament's posted start time, you may have to forfeit the tournament. If your name is called and your group's game is ready to be played, and you are not around, you will have 5 minutes to get back and get started, or you will forfeit that game.
- If a player purposely turns off a game while it is in progress, that player will be disqualified from the tournament. Entry into future tournaments may be denied.
- Arguing with the Event Moderators about a decision may result in disqualification from the tournament.
- If any game glitches are discovered during the tournament giving a player an unfair advantage, the Event Moderators have the right to ban using the glitch after the point in which it is discovered. The Event Moderators have discretion to disqualify the player.
 - Have fun and good luck!
